Forgery Detected by a Cashier.

Max Waldin, a tailor, and Samuel Parnson, a real estate agent, both doing business in Newark, were arrested by Chief Wambold yesterday for forgery. On Tuesday afternoon Parnson presented a note of $1,000 at the office of the State Trust Company and asked to have it discounted. George Webner, the Cashier, discovered that the signature of William Wendel, a Director of the company, which was appended to the paper, was a forgery. He did not make any disclosure of his discovery, however, but requested Mr. Parnson to call again in about an hour, telling him that the money would then be ready for him. In the meantime he informed Mr. Wendel, and that gentleman, on looking at the note, pronounced it a forgery. When Parnson returned he was accompanied by Waldin, whom he introduced as the owner of the note. Mr. Wendel went into the room and confronted the two men, when Waldin burst into tears and confessed his crime. The prisoners were taken to the station-house and locked up, but subsequently Parnson procured bail in the sum of $2,000, and was released. He claims that he was entirely ignorant of the forgery and only endeavored to get the note discounted as an accommodation for Waldin. After he had been locked in the cell Waldin attempted to commit suicide by hanging himself, but the rope, which he made of his shirt and handkerchief torn into strips, was too weak, and he fell heavily to the ground, inflicting a severe gash in his head. He was afterward placed in a strait jacket. Waldin was to have been married last night, and he had also commenced negotiations for the purchase of a store.

The Bible a Bad Book.

At the meeting of the Board of Education of Union Hill, Hudson county, on Friday evening, the President of the common Council, Fritz A. Myer, who is also one of the members of the board, offered the following preamble and resolution:

Whereas, The Constitution of the United States does not recognize any particular creed of religious worship, granting each citizen the right to choose his own religious faith or to remain a non-believer; and

Whereas, The teachings of the Bible are wholly or in part rejected by many of our citizens; and

Whereas, Much valuable time is wasted by reading portions of the Bible during school hours; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the customary reading of the Bible at the beginning of the session be and the same is hereby abolished.

The above preamble and resolution were sufficiently, but when the person introducing them went on in debate, denouncing the Bible as "a lewd book," and "totally unfit for the instruction of children," he became simply insufferable. Evil in everything and good in nothing, should be this man's motto. He must covet the distinction of being rated the No. 1 Dunce of New Jersey.

THE CARRUTH LANDIS AFFAIR.—The Bridgeton "Patriot" says: "We called upon Mr. Carruth, on Wednesday, and found him suffering much pain from the ball which was lodged in his brain in March last by Mr. Landis. He is much reduced in strength, and is confined to his bed most of the time. Himself and friends have lost all hopes of his recovery and efforts to convince him that there is still hope are unavailing. The wound is still unhealed, which is perhaps better for him under the circumstances. Notwithstanding we were advised of his condition before our visit, we were surprised to find Mr. Carruth a physical wreck of his former self, and shall not be surprised to hear of his death at any time. The fact of the amount of damages not being settled between himself and Mr. Landis preys much upon his mind, and in our judgment has much to do with his present condition.

On Saturday afternoon James Riker, who lived near the suburbs of Hacketstown, returned to his house, and apparently laboring under mental depression. He went to a closet and and drew forth a revolver which had been loaded some time. He then called his two sons, aged six and ten respectively, who were playing near by, and deliberate shot them both, killing them almost instantly. His wife, alarmed by the report of the pistol, hurried in from an adjoining room, and Riker immediately attacked her and attempted to shoot her also; but he missed his aim, and the ball lodged in the opposite wall. Mrs. Riker fled and saved her life by taking refuge in a neighbor's house. Riker thereupon shot himself in the side of his head. The wounds, however, did not prove fatal, and he was shortly afterward taken to jail. Family troubles are said to have prompted the double murder.

Subscriptions to the amount of $2 500 have been received for building a Presbyterian church on Morris Plains, and more are promised. It is intended to build a church costing about $4,000. The plans have been made and are now in the carpenters' hands for estimates. The church is to be enclosed this Fall.

The Empress Eugenie is said to have recently asked Marshal MacMahon to be allowed to pass twenty four hours at Paris in the strictest incognito. She is said to have received a categorical refusal.

The Grand Jury of New York have indicted John Dolan for murdering Mr. Nesbyt in flicting the wounds which caused his death, and for robbing him in taking his watch and chain.

The Alabama Constitutional Convention has disposed of the question of the race by deciding to provide separate schools for "children of citizens of African descent."

A diamond of one hundred and fifty carats has been found at Kimberly, in the South African diamond fields.

The increase of attendance this year in the public schools of Virginia amounts to 16,000 over last year.

Chicago at the end of the year will have 10,000 more houses than at the beginning.

Sunday Excursion Trains.

A New York paper, speaking of the New Jersey law passed last year permitting under certain restrictions the running of railway trains on Sunday, says:

The law was foisted upon a late Legislature of New Jersey through the instrumentality of the Pennsylvania railroad, as an additional section to the act entitled "An Act for the Suppression of Vice and Immorality," by which certain Sunday trains were authorized to be run on the railroads within the State, under the pretence that they were necessary in order to enable people living in certain sparsely settled parts of New Jersey to get to church. The unsuspicious law-makers who fell into this snare, did not realize that it was intended to authorize excursion trains for pleasure on the Christian Sabbath; but there is little doubt that the provision was craftily intended to meet on exigency of the period of the Centennial Exhibition, and that it was so worded as to make it impossible to prevent the running of Sunday excursions as long as it remains on the statute books. At least we are credibly informed that the Pennsylvania Railroad cites this recent law as authority for their present course. The people of New Jersey should not rest until this bad law is repealed; or, at all events, if they wish to save themselves from appearing ridiculous, they should place it under some other head than that of "An Act for the Suppression of Vice and Immorality." It would be more appropriate to entitle it "An Act for the Encouragement of Vice and Immorality."

THE FALL ELECTIONS.—Elections occur this year on Nov. 2d, in the following States: Virginia, Kansas, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Minnesota, Missouri, New York, New Jersey Pennsylvania, Wisconsin.

On the 4th inst a revolting murder was committed near the village of Suncook, N. H. Miss Longmaid, daughter of a respectable farmer, residing about a mile and a half from Suncook was murdered while going to school and her horribly mutilated body was found in the woods a short distance from her residence. She was about 18 years of age; attractive in appearance, exemplary in character and greatly beloved by a large circle of friends. The police have arrested a desperate character by the name of William Drew, and believe he was the murderer.

There are more bay windows in San Francisco than in any other city in the world. Bay windows constitute its architectural specialty. No family can be without them. Every little cottage has them. That wonderful hostelry, the Palace Hotel, has over six hundred front rooms with bay windows. Every front room on two sides and for eleven stories in hight has a bay window, and by one correspondent it is described as presenting the appearance of an enormous collection of dove cotes arranged in ranks and tiers one above another.

Two organs are to be placed in the Brooklyn Rink when Moody and Sankey begin next Sunday, one of which is to be in charge of Mr. Sankey. A chorus of 200 voices is to be selected from the churches. Mr Sankey has asked that none but Christians be put into the choir, as they can more fervently sing the songs. It is estimated that the Rink will hold 6,500 or 7,000 persons. The services are to be held every evening except Saturday at half-past 7 o'clock, and at 8:20 A. M. and 4 P. M. on Sundays.

Twenty-three years ago, a schooner laden with whiskey, lying in the Raisin river at Monroe, Mich., was carried into Lake Erie by ice and sunk. For several weeks past a party of wreckers from Chicago have been searching that vicinity, and now claim to have found the schooner. The vessel is in 23 feet of water, and the wreckers expected to recover the cargo, which is valued at $150,000 to $200,000.

A man in Boston has discovered a new remedy for bald heads. It is to go bareheaded. He has tried the remedy for two years, and whereas he was bald, his head is now covered with hair. He claims that the heat of the sun not only promotes capillary vegetation, but likewise nourishes the brains. Well, it's a simple, inexpensive remedy.

A new process of refrigeration, by the use of ammonia brought by great pressure to a low temperature, has been introduced into New York from Paris. It is applicable to cellars, packing-rooms, compartments in ships, &c., and is intended to keep the air in the rooms pure, dry, and very cold, without the use of ice.

Benjamin Franklin, as Postmaster-General, established a post office at Falmouth, Me., on Oct. 5, 1775, and the centennial of the act was observed quietly at Falmouth on Tuesday. The original commission signed by Franklin, is still in existence.

Three persons died recently at Dalton, Ga., from eating ice cream flavored with peach leaves.

Go gather autumn leaves and press them in a fine book and spoil the back.
